TURKEY RECOGNIZES THE TREATY.

Determination of the Porte to Carry Out Its Provisions.

RUSSIA READY FOR THE CONGRESS.

A Spirit of Moderation Evinced Throughout the Empire.

ROUMANIA'S DELICATE POSITION.

[BY CABLE TO THE HERALD.]

LONDON, April 13, 1878. The Porte has issued a circular to its represents tives abroad. It recognizes the Treaty of San Stefano as the result of the reverses sustained by Turkey in the late war and expresses determination to carry out loyally the terms of the treaty, but declares that the Porte would nevertheless regard as opportune any modifications which might be made by the benevolent intervention of the Powers and the moderation of Russia. The circular concludes by stating that, whatever may be the issue of the present negotiations, the Porte pledges itself to carry out the projected reforms. RUSSIA'S INTERESTS ARE PEACEPUL.

The Journal de St. Petersburg, reviewing the opinions of the foreign press upon Prince Gortschakoffs reply, concludes as follows:-"The real desire of Russia to bring about a peacetul solution of the existing difficulties meets with universal recognition. The British government must now abandon its purely negative attitude, either by inviting the Powers to assemble for common negotiations or by proposing solutions which the British Cabinet might wish to substitute for the Treaty of San Stelano. Should the Powers find a compromise Russia would willingly participate in a discussion and modify the treaty. Such solution should not however, nullify the results gained by Russian blood, but take into account her sacrifices."

The Agence Russe, of St. Petersburg, says the Russian government, by discussing in its answer to Lord Salisbury the objection raised by him on every point of the treaty, has practically established discussion of the whole treaty, and thus shown how small a foundation the British objections had. If the Congress meets there will be no objection to full discussion, but the submission of the treaty implies an act which no independent Power-England least of all-would admit. The Agence adds:-"Direct and amicable pourpariers continue, which, thanks to the good offices of Germany, it may be hoped will lead to a satisfactory result."

The tone of the comments on the political crisis is much more hopeful from all directions. The whole basis for this change seems to be a conviction that Russia is preparing to accept Germany's help to get out of the present deadlock by such concessions as will secure a meeting of the Congress. Prince Gortschakoff's to which it was annexed, were only published in St Petersburg on Tnursday, which strengthens the belief that the former was telegraphed hither on Tuesday night for a special purpose.

The circular, when issued here Thursday after noon, had a depressing influence on the Stock Ex change, in consequence of the reiteration of the reiusal to submit the Treaty of San Stefano to the Russian stocks declined over two however, that although the circular offers no con-cession on the point at issue it is couched in such considerate and moderate language as to leave the door open for England to make some reply to the invitation for further explanations and thereby

A DOOR OPEN FOR PRACE. At Vienna Prince Gortschakon's reply created an impression of Russia's willingness to find an acceptable method for reopening negotiations.

This moderate spirit is believed to be in a great measure due to the altered tone of the comments of the German, French and Italian press and politicians concerning the treaty of San Stefano, which point to the probability of Russia instead of England being isolated in case of

The Vienna Cabinet, which still firmly adheres to the idea of the Congress as the only possible solution is, of course, greatly pleased at the improved aspect of affairs. The German semi-official newspapers of The German someone in the wapapers of Thursday evening were not sanguine that either Lordon or St. Petersburg will make the concessions necessary to secure an agreement, but all informa tion agrees that the German government continue its endeavors to bring about an agreement, which it is not likely to do after the case is hopeless. The improved feeling has, therefore, substantial justifi-

OCCUPATION OF ROUMANIA. The Times has the following, dated Bucharest, Friday:--"It is stated here that 20,000 men of the Eleventh Russian Army corps will hold Bucharest, and the remainder of the corps will hold the stations on the line to Giurgevo. Other Russian troops are expected in the territory east of the Aluta. Nearly all of the in troops are in positions westward of the Aluta. The Russian delegate sent to make arrangements relative to the passage of troops will arrive here to-day.

TRYING TO EPPECT AN ARRANGEMENT. The Political Correspondence of Vienna states that the Russian representative at Bucharest is now urging the conclusion of a convention secur-ing the right of passage through Roumania to Rus sian troops. A PERTINENT QUESTION. A Bucharest despatch says M. Stourdza ha given notice that he will ask the government in the Senate whether the negotiations for the pas-sage of the Russian troops are in consequence of the government's having notified Russia of her willingness to permit such passage if a direct understanding was concluded. Notice has been given of an interpellation in the Chamber of Deputies as to the advisability of withdrawing the army to the Carpathian Mountains in view of the Russian occupation, and whether the government means to protest to the Powers against the recent large entries of Russian troops into Roumania.

INTERESTS OF THE COUNTRY. There seems to be some disposition at St. Petersburg to show Roumania more consideration. It is now announced thence that Prince Gortschakoff meant that the stipulation for the passage o Russian troops through Roumania-not the ques tion of the cession of Bessarabia-could not be mitted to the Congress.

SERVIA'S VACCILLATION. It is also stated that a Russian commissioner will go to Bucharest to treat with the Servian gov ernment concerning the passage of troops. In Stevtcha Mihailovitch, the Servian Minister-President has resigned in consequence of the vacil lating policy of the Servian government. It is said that Anglo-Austrian influences are now in the ascendant at Belgrade, and that there is a dis position on the part of Servia, Roumania and Mon Powers against the Treaty of San Stefano. SHE WILL KEEP QUIET.

A despatch from Belgrade says Roumania's recent efforts to induce Servia to make con cause with her have been unsuccessful

A THREAT TO THE GREEKS.
The North German Gazette, of Berlin, says the Porte, believing that the Greek Consul at Salonica was the instigator of the insurrection, has de-manded that he be recalled and threatened to withdraw his exequatur. Greece has refused and threatened reprisals if the exequatur is withdrawn HAD NO SUCH IDEAS.

The Times' Vienna despatch says the report that Prince Bismarck considered a preliminary confer-ence of ambassadors at Berlin possible this week was premature, to say the least.

A despatch from Constantinople reports that eight Turkish transports have started for Odesse to bring home Turkish prisoners. A CANARD.

AN ADDITIONAL CONFESSION MADE BY THE PRISONER GRAHAM-HUNTER'S ALIBI MELT-ING AWAY-ANOTHER DIABOLICAL CRIME IN CONTEMPLATION.

The affidavit of the prisoner Sills, reciting the de-tails of the vilianous plot alleged to have been formed by Hunter, by which he was to have Graham, his accomplice, poisoned in his cell, has not been refuted, public belief in Hunter's guilt of the terrible crime charged against him, and day by day the chances of ANOTHER ALLEGED PLOT. man came to light yesterday. If it is true it would minstion against the Armstrong family, and not only carefully arranged the assassination of John M. Armstrong, but planned also the taking off of his only brother, Philip. Young Graham, Hunter's hired which he declares that one day while on the street with Hunter. Philip Armstrong passed by. Hunter called Granam's attention to him and said that he was another man who must be put out of the way. He ham was to follow Mr. Armstrong from an auction store to waying and kill him. The officials in Camden will not permit the publication of the particulars the additional confession, but this is the substance of it. Then Philip Armstrong, whou questioned concerning the matter, said:—

"So far as I know there is no doubt that Hunter in-sended to have me put out of way, and Grabam was to do the deed. The way I heard of it was this. A short time since my nephew, Frank Armstrong, was in Camden, and during a conversation with the Sheriff he asked how many prothers Mr. Armstrong had. On being told I was the only one the Sheriff said Hunter intended to get ru of me too. He then went on to say how Graham had told him that while he and Hunter were on the boat together Henter asked I he knew John's brother, and being told he did not Hunter said he would let him see me, then he went on to say how it knew all shoet the business transactions of my brother and him, and it was actually mecssary to get rid of me to prevent my giving out this knowledge. That such a conversation took place there can be no doubt, as Graham told the Sheriff all about my private affairs, which he could only have eleganed from Hunter or my brother, and, of course, John never told him. As this case goes on it develops a carefully laid scheme, I think, on the part of Hunter, to carry out his villanous designs. I think it will come out, too, that a certain woman was cognizant of the piot concocted between Graham and Hunter during its progress. We have no direct evidence against this person, but the suspicion is so well founded that when the trial comes off we will endeaver to bring it out fully, and probably thus connect Hunter and Graham's copartnership beyond a shadow of coult."

The Herald some time ago, before the arrest of Graham, gave the result of a careful investigation by your correspondent, which resulted in showing that the evidence which Hunter professed to have, proving an alto at the time of the murder, was very unsatisfactory, to say the least. This conclusion is now confirmed by the statement made to-day by an official having a knowledge of the case. Ho declares that Peter Epp, the rangemaker, Hunter's principal witness to establish the alleged sible, now admits that he was mistaken in a date and that Hunter was at his abop, at Seventeenth and Oxford streets, a little while before the murder, and the prisoner's cou to do the deed. The way I heard of it was this. A short time since my nephew, Frank Armstrong, was

PRIZE ELOCUTION CONTEST.

A novel entertainment was held at Chickering Hall past evening, with a fair house. Contesting recitations were given for two prizes of $50 and $25. The con testants were mostly pupils from elecutionists and public schools. Miss Hattle Anderson, aged lourteen years, received 104 votes and the first prize. Her reading was really fine. Another and a younger girl, Lizzie Anderson, but no relation of the other, would have probably won the second prize, but there was some dispute in the audience over a tie vote. Miss Mary C. Myers, who was declared winner, was a full grown lady and almost a "professional," while the little girl, scarcely twelve years of age, won the hearts of the audience and was encored several times while the tickness were being counted. HANNIBAL AND ST. JOSEPH.

This balance, together with the receipts from the company's land, has been applied to the expenditures for the improvement of rota bed and track, the payment of the arrears of taxes and other expenses, amounting to $341,798 86. On the 1st of January, contracts for the sale of land, upon which there remained due upward of $2,500,000, were niaced in the hands of the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company to secure an issue of bonds to the amount of $1,00,000, of which there have been sold to April 11, $335,000 at ninty-five cents and accrued interest.
